

Step 1:

Open the FastForward application on your Android phone. You will see the login screen (image 1), if you already have an account, fill in your account and password (image 2), then click the “LOG IN” button to log in to the main screen. If you are a new user, you can click the “SIGN UP” button, FastForward will jump to the registration interface (image 3), fill in your personal information and account password (image 4), click the “SIGN UP” button again, FastForward will help you create a new account. After the creation is successful, you can return to the login interface to log in to your account.

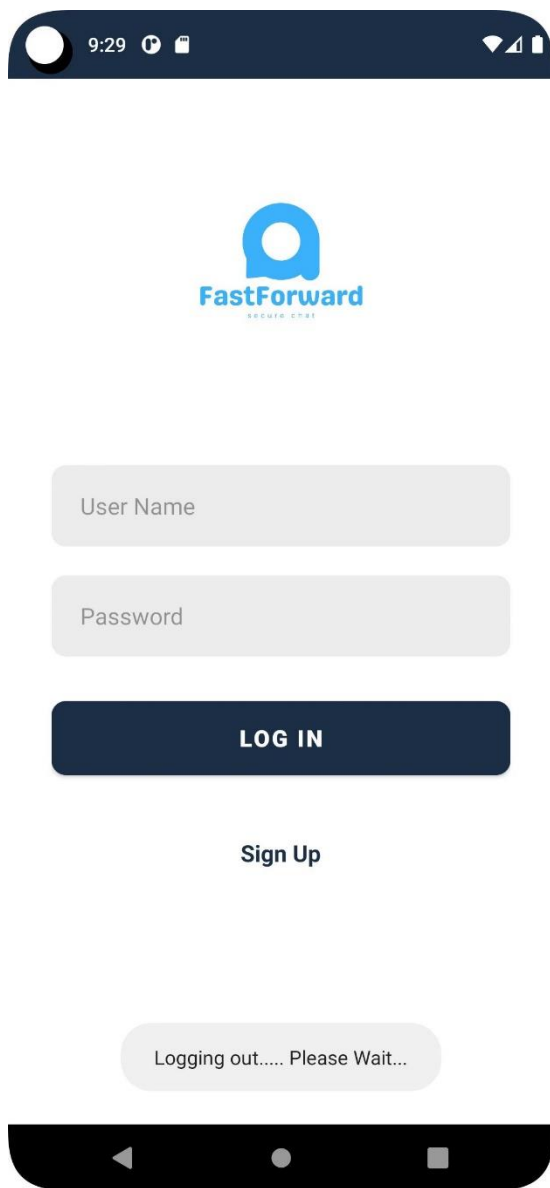

Image 1

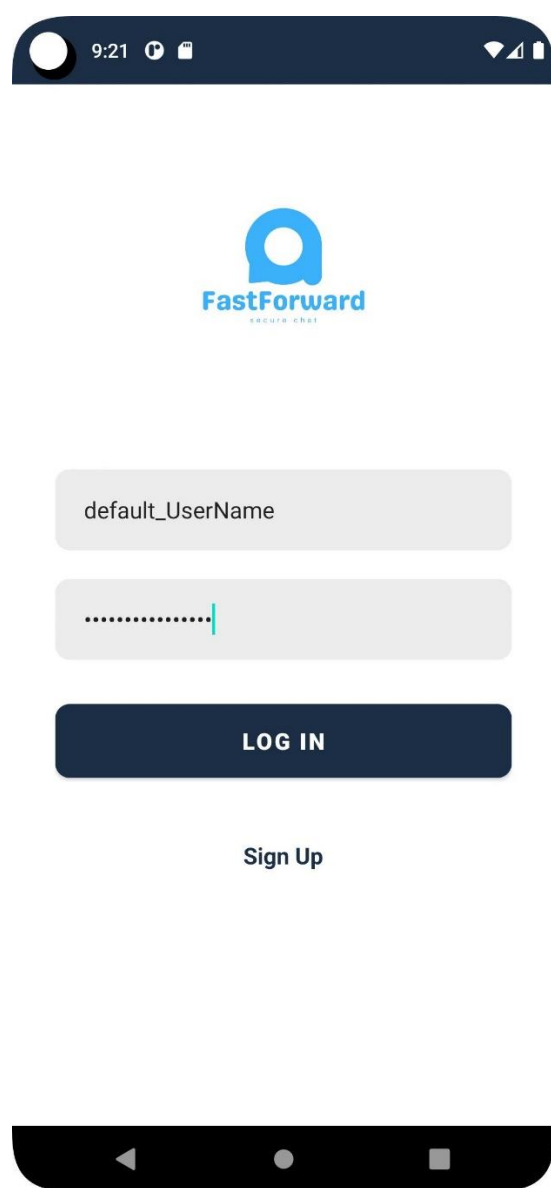

Image 2

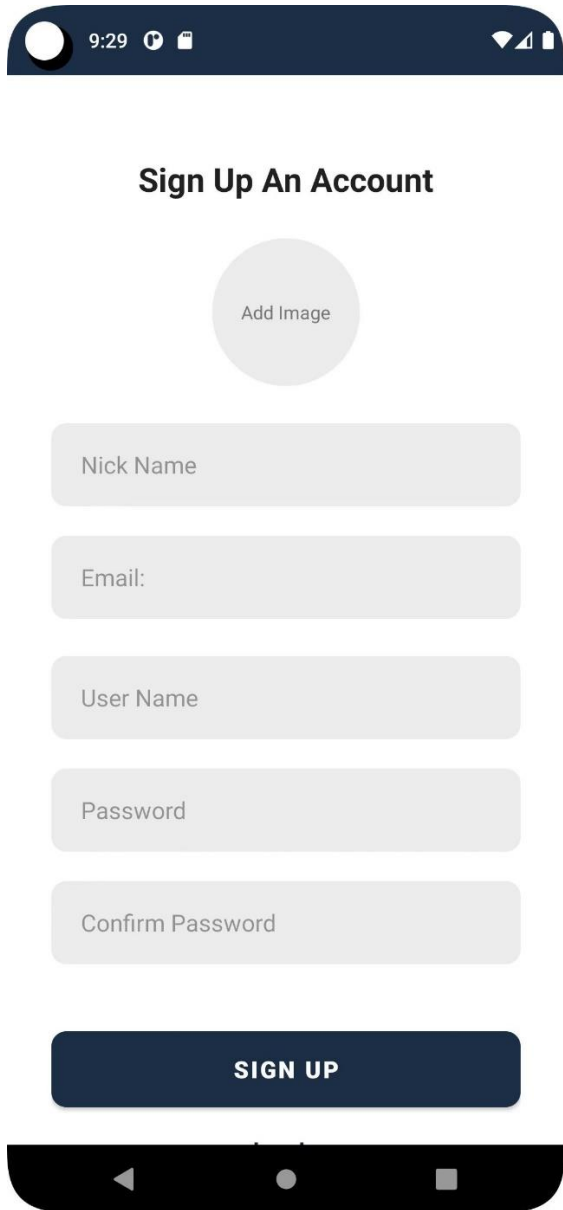

Image 3

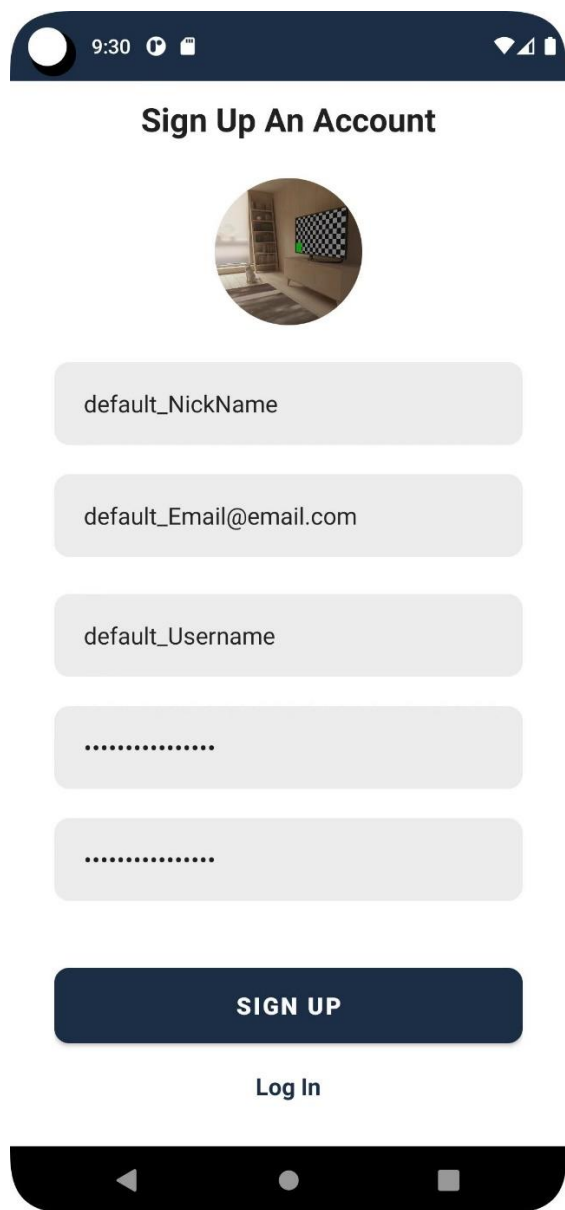

Image 4

Step 2:

After successful login, FastForward will jump to the main interface (image 5), the main interface will display the friends who have chatted with you recently, and you can view more friends through the pulley on the right. If you want to chat with your friend, you can click on your friend's avatar, then, FastForward will jump to the friend chat interface (image 6), the chat interface will display your recent chat history, you can click the input box, FastForward will pop up the keyboard, You can type in the message you want to send (image 7), then click the "Send" button and the message will be sent successfully.

Image 5

Image 6

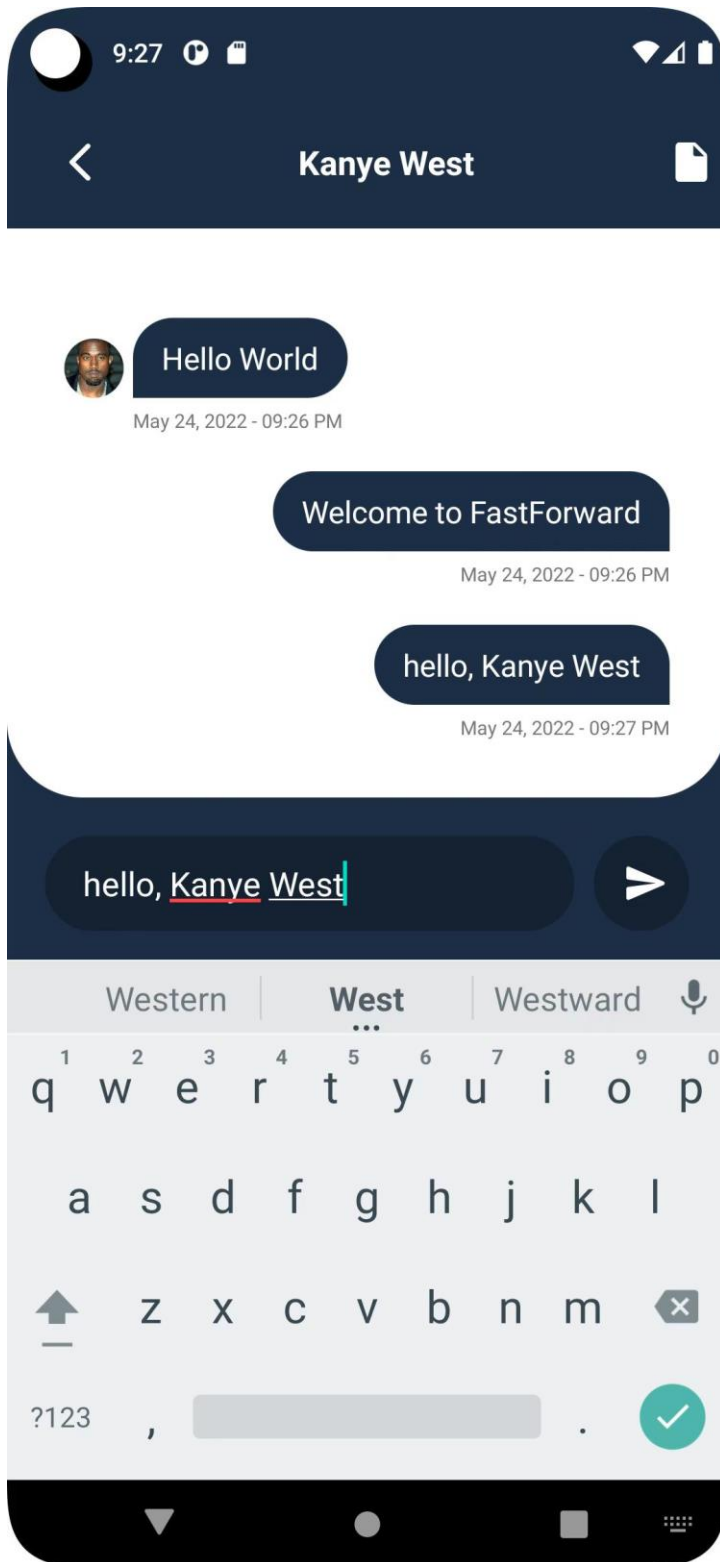

Image 7

Step 3:

Click the "+" button on the main interface, FastForward will jump to the friend list interface (image 8), where you can view all your friends and their email addresses. Then, click "Add new Friend", FastForward will jump to the add friend interface (image 9), you can enter the Username you want to add in the first input box, and enter the information you want to pass in the second input box, then click the "SEARCH" button, FastForward will send a friend request to the user. If the user you entered does not exist, you will be prompted to re-enter the Username.

Click on "New Friend List" in the friend interface, FastForward will jump to the friend request interface (image 10), where you can view the users who sent you friend requests. You can click the "Accept" button to accept the friend request or click the "Deny" button to reject the friend request.

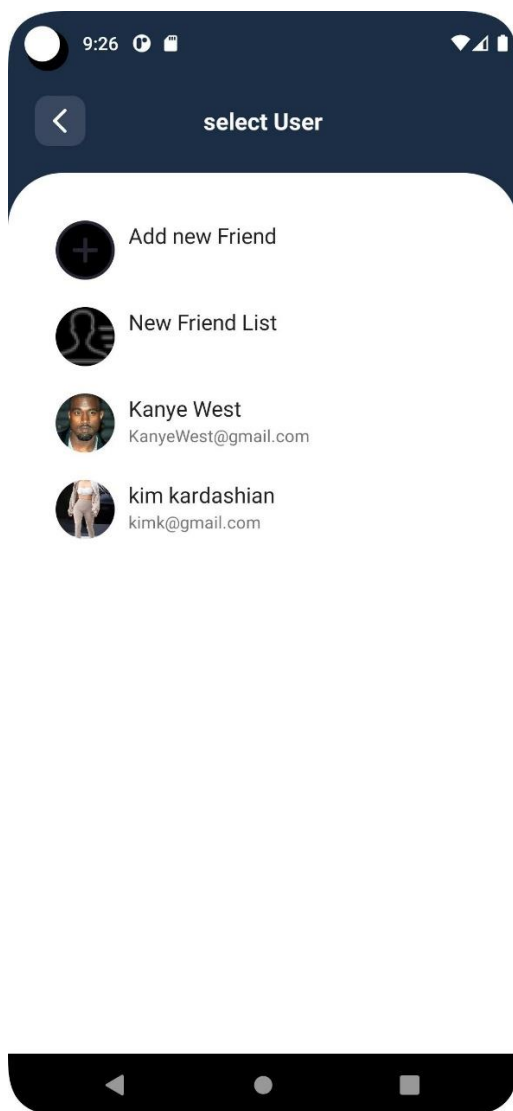

Image 8

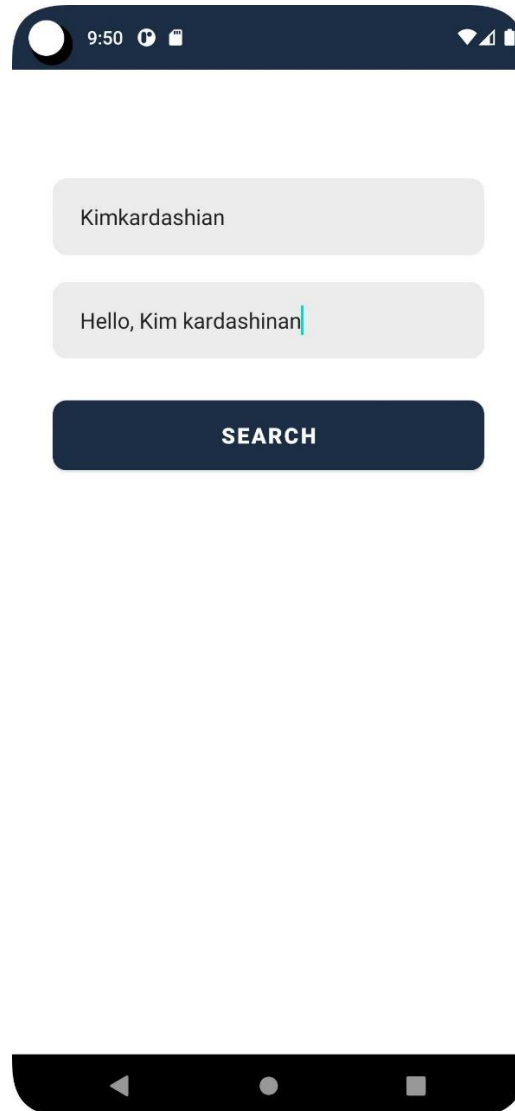

Image 9

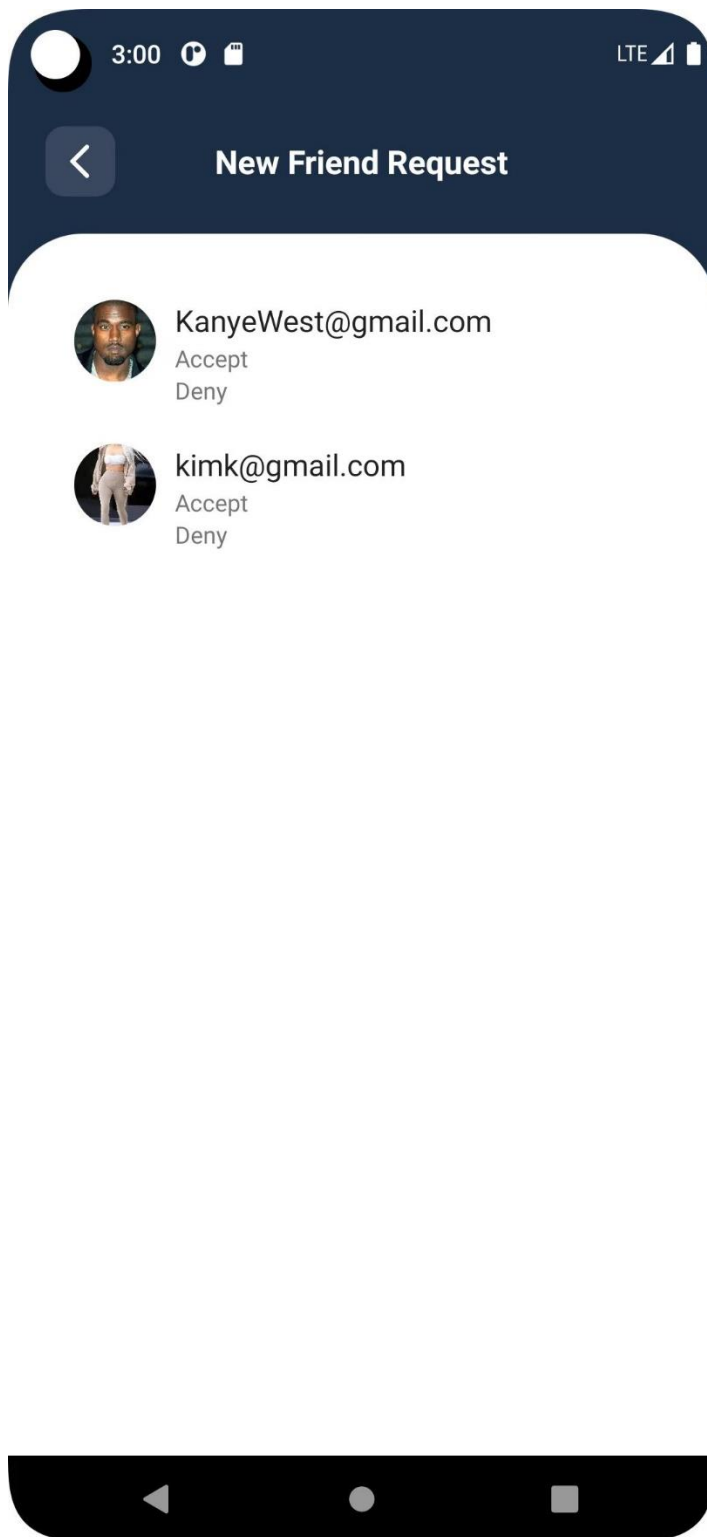

Image 10

Step 4:

Click the "File" button in the upper right corner of the chat interface, FastForward will jump to the file selection interface (image 11), you can choose the file type you want to send. If you want to send a picture, you can preview the picture by clicking the button to the right of the picture name (image 12). After sending the picture, FastForward will jump back to the chat interface (image 13), and both you and the chat partner can view the picture in the chat history.

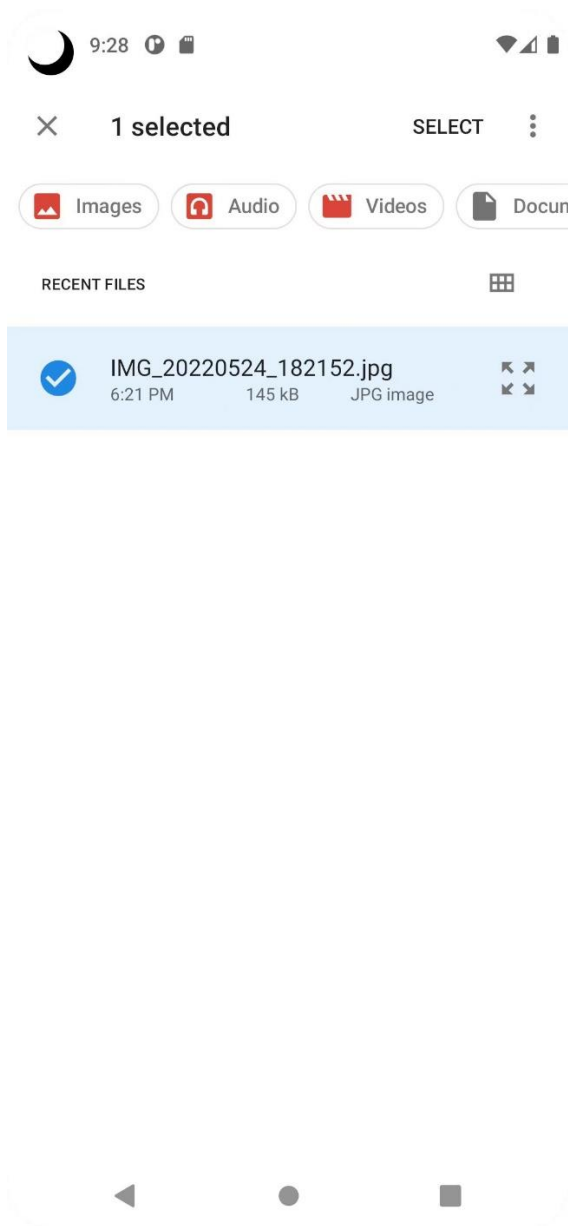

Image 11

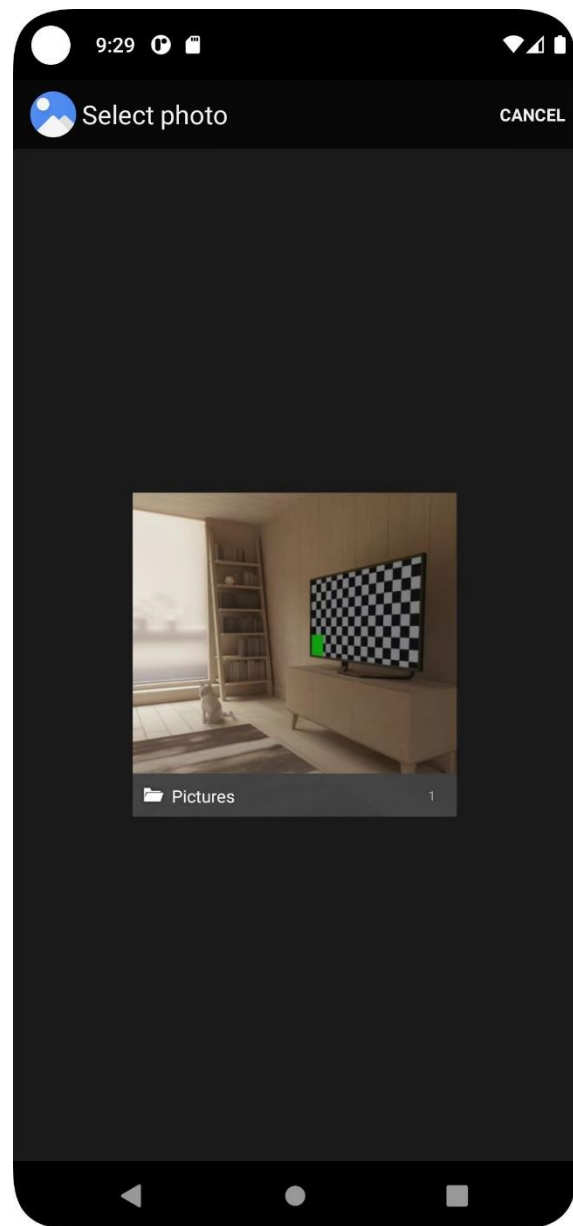

Image 12

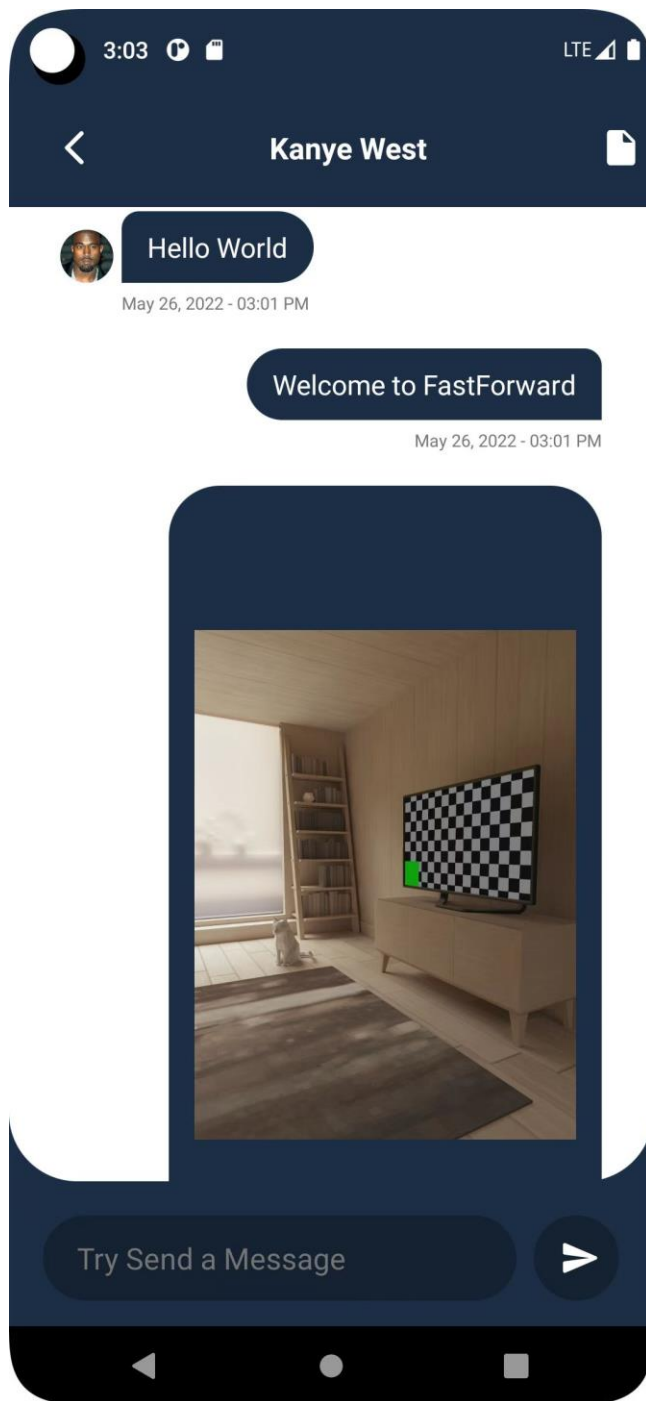

Image 13

Step 5:

Click on your avatar or nickname in the main interface, FastForward will jump to the personal information interface (image 14). This interface will display your current avatar, nickname, email and username. If you want to change, you can enter new personal information in the input box. This interface can also change the password, you need to enter your original password, then enter the new password and enter it again to confirm, finally click the "UPDATE" button (image 15), the system will update your personal information.

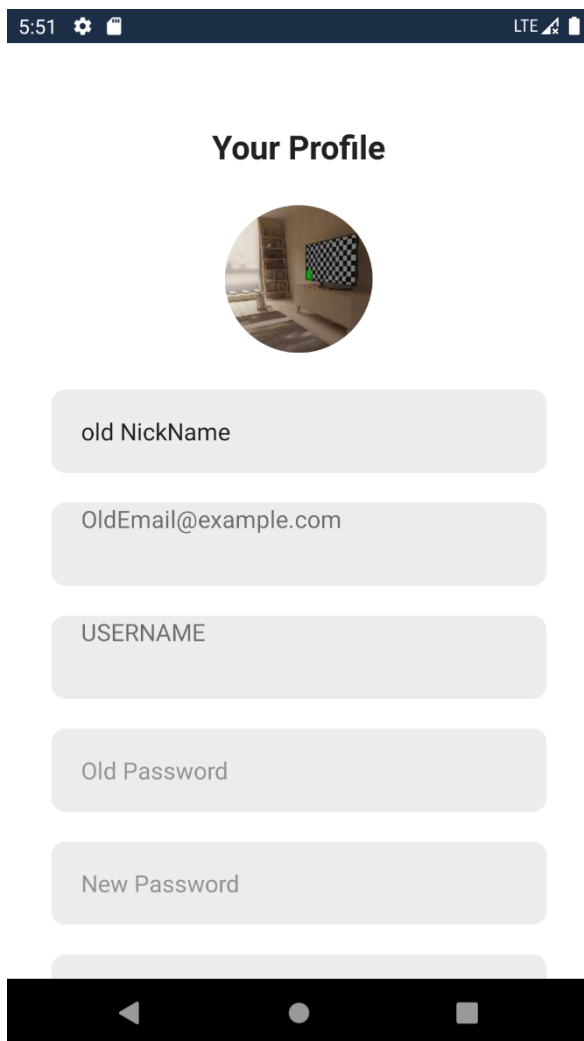

Image 14

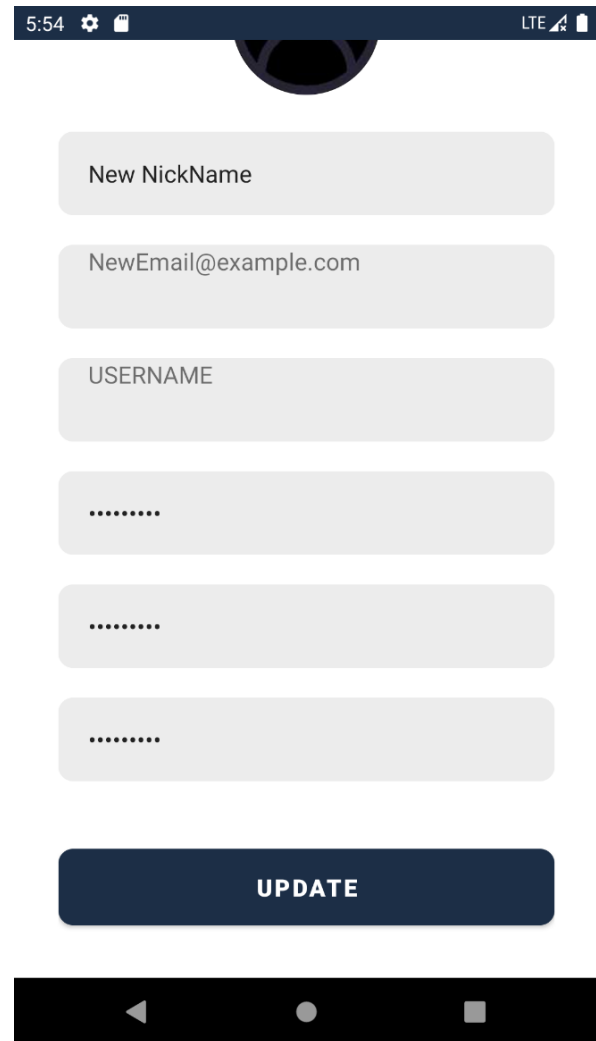

Image 15